BAPA's Imagination Stage, the Washington area's fastest-growing professional children's theater, presents Voyage of the Jumbies by Philip Freeman Sayer, a delightful comedy for family audiences. In it, "The Owl and the Pussycat" and many of poet Edward Lear's colorful characters join in the Jumbly family's nonsensical quest for the Pobble's missing toes. June 22 - Aug. 25, Saturday and Sunday, 3 p.m.; Tuesday, and Thursday, 10:30 a.m. $ White Flint Mall, 11301 Rockville Pike, Rockville, MD. Metro: White Flint. 301-881-5106

"The happiest years of my mother's life were spent in Washington, DC. It was where she met my father, where John was born and where I spent my earliest years. When my father was President, that special time we had together in the White House gave my mother an opportunity to express her unique creativity and her enduring love of history. Whether it was restoring The White House or fighting to save Lafayette Square, she wanted only the best for our nation's capital. So it means a great deal to me, and to members of my family, that Washington has chosen to recognize her contributions with such a wonderful Citywide Celebration. I know she would consider it a great honor."

Jacqueline Kennedy's WASHINGTON

A Citywide Celebration

Some shape cities with glass and steel.
She did it with grace and style.
This summer, we invite you to see Washington, DC through the eyes of one of its most celebrated residents: Jacqueline Kennedy.

Welcome to Jacqueline Kennedy's Washington – A Citywide Celebration where Jacqueline Kennedy-related experiences and programs illustrate the diverse interests and the unique legacy of Jacqueline Kennedy. More than 60 area cultural organizations and restaurants are participating in June, July and August.

You can choose from among the First Lady's interests – the performing arts to historic preservation, fine dining to fine art, and from raising her children to encouraging a love of history in all children – in the exhibits, special performances, lectures, dining experiences, and walking tours that make up Jacqueline Kennedy's Washington – A Citywide Celebration.

A beloved international figure, Jacqueline Kennedy's Washington, DC roots were deep. She graduated from The George Washington University and worked for the Washington Times-Herald as an inquiring photographer. After marrying Senator John F. Kennedy, she took classes at Georgetown University while supporting his bid for the White House.

As First Lady, Jacqueline Kennedy, in addition to restoring the White House, saved the historic character of Lafayette Square, revolutionized White House entertaining, helped bring world treasures to the National Gallery, and opened Washingtonians' eyes to classical music and French cuisine.

Although she spent the last half of her life in New York City, she returned often to Washington, DC – visiting her husband's grave in Arlington Cemetery, testifying before the Supreme Court to save Grand Central Station, and dedicating the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

Welcome to the city where Jacqueline Kennedy most indelibly left her stamp. There's something for everyone!
